

SEMESTER: I

DOD6301: Design Studio - I

After completion of this course the student will be able to:

1. Demonstrate the knowledge about redesigning an underused space.
2. Generate Design strategies to address the issues and potentials of renovation projects.
3. Design Renovation Projects

DOD6303: Design History

After completion of this course the student will be able to:

1. Understand the importance of history in Interior Design.
2. Understand the evolution of design through history.
3. Classify design elements, their influences and their applications in the present context.

DOD6305: Material Exploration

After completion of this course the student will be able to:

1. Understand various construction materials and their properties.
2. To evaluate the use of various materials according to the design requirement.
3. Develop an understanding of new and innovative materials

SEMESTER: II

DOD6302: Design Studio -II Art & Design
Fundamentals – II

After completion of this course the student will be able to:

1. Understand design elements and spatial graphics in Retail Design.
2. Propose creative visual merchandizing strategies.
3. Develop Interior Design to create brand identity.

DOD6304: Research Methodology

After completion of this course the student will be able to:

1. Understand various techniques of conducting research.
2. Analyze the various research and their findings.
3. Apply research in design.
4. Disseminate knowledge through publication, conferences, readings, and collaboration with various professionals in related fields.

DOD6306: Inter Professional

After completion of this course the student will be able to:

1. Demonstrating the importance of collaboration of different fields to achieve a successful design.
2. Formulate a program for design collaboration with another professional
3. Design a design in collaboration with the professional.

SEMESTER: III

DOD7307: Design Studio -III

After completion of this course the student will be able to:

1. Identify the current issues of healthcare interiors.
2. Demonstrate the knowledge of various materials and finishing for healthcare setting.
3. Apply knowledge and skills effectively in support of safety, quality, and efficiency in healthcare interior environments.
4. Propose design guide lines to be applied in the interior design of healthcare settings.

DOD7309: Cultural Anthropology

After completion of this course the student will be able to:

1. Understand theoretical perspectives that have been used in anthropology.
2. Demonstrate use of cultural aspects into the process of design.
3. Analyze human relations in cultural society

DOD7311: Thesis Enquiry -Dissertation

After completion of this course the student will be able to:

1. Identification of potential area of study for thesis project.
2. Apply research techniques to conduct the research.
3. Analyze the research to formulate the design program.
- 4.
- 5.

DOD7313: Practical Training

After completion of this course the student will be able to:

1. Understand real-time large-scale Interior Projects.
2. Analyze the working of interior design project handling
3. Develop competencies to address large scale interior projects through hands-on training.

SEMESTER: IV

DOD7310: Thesis

After completion of this course the student will be able to:

1. Demonstrate the knowledge of Interior Design.
2. Identify various studies to understand the design project.
3. Develop a project with respect to all aspects of Interior Design